GriffinWink has been a fantastic partner in Rico's business development and marketing.

We have seen an increase in engagement from our customers and find our competitors attempting to duplicate our success. GriffinWink has fresh ideas and works to differentiate itself and Rico from competitors in our market. The quality of work and attention to detail sets them apart.

We have found them over the last several years to be more than just a typical marketing company, but friends that take the time to understand our complicated industry. We have been approached by others, but they can not bring the same return on investment.

Sincerely,
Ryan Smith, RN, CFRN, EMT-P, NRP, CMTE
